ARGENTINA BREAKS WITH GERMANY, JAPAN

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

ARGENTINA'S action in severing relations with Germany and Japan is a happy development for the United Nations, since it is a step in the direction of closing the dangerous breach in the anti-Axis front of the western hemisphere.

The next vital step is for all the nations of North and South America to join hands in a ruthless housecleaning of subversive interests which are in the employ of Hitler and his gang, should the great nation of Argentina feel able to give full cooperation in this work. It will assure the success which thus far has eluded the Allies in their efforts to exterminate the Hitlerian and Japanese agents in this hemisphere.

From the military standpoint things go well for the Allies in all theaters of our global war, but while the enemy's striking-power at arms is visibly deteriorating, he is managing by persistent and insidious means to create international political crisis which are a grave menace to the security of the United Nations.

The evil Hitler's propagandists are busy trying to cause dissension among the Allies, especially among Russia, Britain and America, upon whose amicable cooperation depends the winning of this war and the peace to follow. His agents are boring into the vitals of every country, including our own, in an effort to create internal disorganization and thus damage the war effort.

All this is a part of the Fuehrer's general strategy of fighting delaying actions, both military and political, in the hope that time will produce some upheaval which will give him the victory that is denied his armies. Protraction of the war is his last desperate chance of salvaging something from the wreckage he has created.

One of the fields to which the Axis has been devoting tremendous energy is South America. The Hitlerian purpose is two-fold: To create bases which will give him immediate help in his war against the forces of civilization, and to try to disrupt the unity of the western hemisphere and thus weaken the strength of the Allies to make war.

There is still another factor, for the German and Japanese agents not only are inspired by a desire to help the Axis, but are taking advantage of the opportunity to feather their own nests. Some of the greatest individual graft the world has known has grown out of the unholy Axis operations. Count Ciano, Mussolini's unrepentant lackey, and son-in-law, was reputed to have made himself one of the world's richest men. The fat Hermann Goering, runner up to Hitler, started from nothing and is now a croesus.

ONE OF THE latest hot-spots in the western hemisphere is Bolivia where people who are happy to count among our friends, but who seem to have stubbed its toe lately in permitting the creation of a government which other leading South American nations have hastened to disavow and which both the United States and Britain have refused to recognize. The United States flatly says the Bolivian coup was linked with a "general subversive movement" to overthrow the present government.

OHIOANS BASK IN 'HEAT' WAVE

June in January Becomes Reality As Mercury Hits 52 In Salem

A January "heat wave" was expected to push the mercury even higher today after reaching record levels in Ohio yesterday.

The weather bureau also forecast for today, tonight and tomorrow occasional rains that would help alleviate near-drought conditions which have been worrying farmers. Mild temperatures are scheduled to continue tomorrow.

Thermometers "soared" to 45 degrees here yesterday while today's noon reading was 52 degrees, probably the warmest Jan. 26 on record. Two robins were seen by one resident here this morning.

Top readings Tuesday included: Cincinnati 66, equal to record; Springfield 63; Columbus 62, a record; Toledo 61, highest in 11 years; Cleveland 56, tied record of 28 years; and Dayton 59, one degree under record.

A heavy rain would hearten farmers who fear serious drought damage to the winter wheat crop. Dr. H. C. Ramsower, director of Ohio State university's agricultural extension service, reported a few days ago that wheat was damaged but early rain would help the crop materially.

Farmers have been hauling water in some parts of the state because of dry wells.

Precipitation in Ohio has averaged four inches less than normal in the past four months.

FINDS COUNTY OPERATES AT REDUCED COST

Recent Survey and Post War Plans Discussed At Meeting Here

A review of the recent survey of county offices was given by Albert H. Brant of the research department of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce at a meeting in the Memorial building last night.

The meeting, attended by only 17 from Salem and vicinity in addition to six county officials, was presided over by F. W. McKee, chairman of the county tax committee. While Brant's written report was a repetition of that given at Lisbon recently, and to be repeated in East Liverpool tonight, the discussions following it were friendly and of a constructive nature.

The report emphasized that "in the field of financial management, Columbiana county has made vast improvements in the last few years, and follows the budget and classification laws very closely."

Noting a 17 per cent reduction in expenditures from the county's general fund from 1939 through 1942, the report commended the officials and made few suggestions for improvements.

Post-War Planning

Much of Brant's report dealt with post-war planning and discussions which followed were largely on this phase of the county's operations. Among the possibilities were a new county jail, to be erected at the rear of the court house; improvements to the county home buildings; a children's home; a juvenile detention home and possibly a tuberculosis hospital.

It was revealed that the 1942 real estate, public utility and tangible personal property valuation of the county, upon which taxes were collected in 1943, amounted to $88,252,770. The per capita real estate valuation amounted to $94.50 and per capita personal property valuation $114.69. Both of these, Brant said, were well below the average of other counties in the state.

ALLIED HOSPITAL SHIPS ARE BOMBED

(By Associated Press)
NETTUNO, Italy, Jan. 24—(Delayed)—In a cold-blooded attack far outside the invasion zone, German bombers sank a hospital ship today and made a direct hit and near misses on two others.

Swift rescue work was believed to have held losses of lives comparatively light.

The attack was delivered shortly after dark. Survivors said the three hospital ships were at least 10 miles from the zone where Allied warships and landing craft were located. All three ships were painted white and large red crosses on their sides and all were lighted fully.

(By Associated Press)
ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Jan. 26—More than 150 American and New Zealand fighters and bombers shot down between 46 and 61 Japanese planes and destroyed eight more on the ground Sunday to raise enemy losses in defense of Rabaul this month above 300.

Marine Major Gen. Ralph Mitchell, commander of air forces in the Solomons, reported after the attack was announced today by headquarters it was "one of the best coordinated raids since the war began" and "one of the most effective ever completed in this area."

Tom Harmon Tells of Escape

Back in the U. S. after being missing for days after being shot down over China, Lieut. Tommy Harmon, former Michigan All-American football player, is shown telling newsmen in Washington of his experiences. Harmon bagged two Jap zeroes in the air battle over Kinkiang last October 30, but his plane was set afire and he had to bail out. On the way down, Harmon said, he played dead as two zeroes circled about him. It took him 32 days to get back to his base from the Chinese lake into which he parachuted. (International)

YANKS DRIVE INTO CASSINO

Patrols Penetrate German-held Town As Enemy Withdrawal Begins

(By Associated Press)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 26—American troops are advancing through minefields in the Cassino sector, it was announced today shortly after field dispatches said U. S. patrols had penetrated into the town.

The front dispatches said German defenses had weakened on that bloody battleground, indicating the Nazis may be withdrawing some of their forces to meet the growing Allied menace to their lifelines south of Rome.

Down 11 Nazi Planes

Allied planes, meanwhile, smashed at bridges and roads and machine-gunned Germans in the area south of Rome. Eleven Nazi planes were shot down for a loss of three Allied ships.

As the Americans advanced through minefields north of Cassino they were subjected to heavy fire.

REDS DECLINE U. S. POLISH OVERTURES

F.D.R. Asks Servicemen's Voting Rights

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—President Roosevelt demanded of Congress today adequate federal machinery for fighting soldiers and sailors to vote next fall, and bluntly labeled a state's-rights vote plan "a fraud upon the American people."

In unusually vehement language, the President said "our millions of fighting men do not have any lobby or pressure group on Capitol Hill to see that justice is done for them" and added:

"I am sure that I can express their wishes in this matter and their resentment against the discrimination which is being practiced against them."

Mr. Roosevelt sent the Capitol a special message on the soldier-vote issue. In an admitted departure from custom and precedent, he even took notice of house legislative procedure which might permit final action on the soldiers' vote issue without a roll call vote, and flung a challenge to congressmen "to stand up and be counted."

Speaks as Citizen

"There are times, I think, when the President can speak as an interested citizen," Mr. Roosevelt said. "I think there would be widespread resentment on the part of the people of the nation if they were unable to find out how their individual representatives had expressed themselves on this legislation—which goes to the root of the right to citizenship."

"I deem the legislation imperative. . . . It certainly would appear unnecessary that our soldiers and sailors and merchant marine have to make a special effort to retain their right to vote."

Ohio Boasts 54 Generals In War No. 2

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Fifty-four generals are among the thousands of native Ohioans doing their share in the new world war.

Like the men in the ranks, the officers are stationed at many fronts, it is shown by a recent compilation of the War department. Among them is Lt. Gen. George Howard Brett, born in Cleveland, a career soldier since his graduation from Virginia Military institute in 1909. He became chief of the Air Corps in May 1941.

Bond Sales In City Now Total $252,557

Bond sales jumped $76,000 to a total of $252,557 yesterday, Chairman Charles McCormick announced today.

More bondholders completed their bids last evening and T. E. Miller, chairman of this house to house division, reported large numbers of sales and pledges were being turned in to him. While more sales to individuals are indicated thus far in the Fourth War Loan drive the smaller bonds are predominating, making total sales volume smaller to date than in the early stages of the last drive.

Buying Bonds This Week Saves Accrued Interest

Purchasers of government securities in the larger issues can save interest if they make their purchases before Feb. 1.

Accrued interest on Treasury 2 1/2 and 3 1/2 per cent bonds, as well as the 7-8 per cent certificates of indebtedness starts on Feb. 1. Any orders received at the banks and paid for by Monday will carry no accrued interest.

Completion of orders this week will not only save the purchasers this interest, but will help Salem reach its goal in the Fourth War Loan drive.

POLICE ROUND UP SPIES AT BUENOS AIRES

Argentina Last of 21 Republics of Americas To Sever Axis Ties

(By Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 26—Argentina severed diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan today to complete belatedly a solid stand by the western hemisphere against the Axis.

The last of 21 republics in the Americas to break off relations with Germany and Japan, Argentina announced the action after a long night of conferences among leaders of the government of President Gen. Pedro Ramirez.

While these discussions were in progress, it also was revealed today, police were busy rounding up many persons—some reported to be members of Argentine society—in an extensive espionage ring which has been operating in the country.

President Ramirez himself arranged to broadcast his government's decision to the people of the "free" ending relations. It was announced the German and Japanese ambassadors would be handed their passports immediately.

Consul Held As Spy

The action today, two years after most other Latin American countries had cut their connections with the Axis, followed an announcement last week of the arrest by the British of an Argentine consul when his boat stopped at Trinidad enroute to Europe.

The consul, Omar Alberto Hel-nuth, was on his way to Barcelona, Spain, when he was removed from the boat and charged with spying.

Acting on evidence supplied by British authorities, Argentina is rounding up numerous persons implicated in the ring.

DANGEROUS TALKING POINT

Anticipation of the strategy of presenting a fourth term for President Roosevelt as one of the desires of this country's allies has not softened the blow of realization that this dangerous argument is going to be used.

"We assembled here realizing his world leadership and knowing that our allies are praying with us for the continuation of his services both in war and peace," resolved the Democratic national committee during its weekend meeting in Chicago.

While this does not constitute a party presidential nomination, there is little doubt that the Democratic national convention this year will merely ratify the decision already made to run Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term; his long personal leadership has eliminated all other contenders. And while it does not constitute a party platform, that decision, too, apparently has been made in advance.

Perhaps it seems to party strategists that they have too good a talking point to neglect in Mr. Roosevelt's present situation as a participant in international negotiating, but if so they have overlooked two vital facts. One is that Mr. Roosevelt has participated as the representative of the United States, not as an individual. The other is that the American people are traditionally and properly jealous of their sovereignty in all international relations. It is impossible to think of an argument packed with more potent repercussions than the argument that any presidential candidate should be looked on with special favor because some other government favors his election.

LIVING COSTS ARE NOT ABSOLUTE

When Philip Murray, president of CIO, tells a senate subcommittee that living costs have increased 50 percent since the first month of 1941 he inadvertently calls attention to the fallacy of a living cost index.

Living costs are not absolute. They are relative. When Mr. Murray declares that the living costs of 1,500 steel workers have increased 50 percent, he does not take into account what may have happened to another 1,500 steel workers who kept their rise well under 50 percent, nor of another 1,500 whose living cost rise might have been well over 50 percent.

The fallacy of a living cost index has been demonstrated convincingly in the case of wage earners obliged to make adjustments to war conditions within fixed incomes. These wage earners, without representation in the organized scramble to keep abreast of the inflationary cycle, have been doing what their counterparts did in the recent deflationary cycle; they have cut the coat to fit the cloth, which still is not one of the lost arts in this country.

The argument is not with the figures Mr. Murray uses, but with the way he uses them. Many thousands of his countrymen know their living costs have not risen 50 percent because they did not permit them to rise by anything like that much. Mr. Murray's living cost estimate is as deceptive as the index of the bureau of labor statistics index on the same subject—and, by the way, whatever became of that committee which was going to report on the latter index?

OWI BAN ON HORSEFEATHERS

If the office of war information means what it says about government officials laying off guesswork on the end of the war, economic developments and other matters they don't know much about, there will be no more speeches by Vice President Wallace, for instance, speculating about a national income of more than 130 billion dollars a year.

For that matter, the President, himself, would be restrained in the use of figures which tax public credulity. All up and down the official line, there would be a general withdrawal from the realm of conjecture. The result would be all to the good. There would be less confusion and fewer disappointments.

If thereafter the OWI went even further and obtained approval of a ban on horsefeathers in general for the duration of the war, the people might be greatly assisted in separating fact from fancy, to the extent that they would know when a government official spoke that he was under compulsion to say nothing he couldn't back up.

Unfortunately, it is impossible to believe that OWI means what it says in its announcement on the matter, or, if it does, that it can keep public officials from getting into the realm of fancy whenever they have the inclination. The OWI might as well try to keep little ducks from taking to the water.

BUT IS IT ECONOMY?

The Byrd economy committee's recommendation that the free mailing privilege be withdrawn from federal departments and agencies doesn't seem to have any direct bearing on economy, but the idea is worth looking into for another reason.

Newspapers, which have been the targets for much of the postal broadside from Washington, always have been skeptical about it for the plain reason that its preparation so often seemed a waste of money. Some of it was useful, of course, and a lot of it would have been useful if it had been received in time to use, but most of it was waste basket filler. As proof that it served no special purposes, the part that has disappeared already has not been missed, and most of the rest could follow it into limbo without a tear being shed. In a word, the Byrd committee should go to the root of the waste, not just tackle one of the steps in the compounding of the crime.

As far as that is concerned, there is nothing in the law and clearly nothing in the rules of bureaucratic behavior to keep the bureau and agencies from paying postage on the bureaucratic broadside, adding the postage to their appropriation requests and thereafter charging the taxpayers not only for the cost of preparation but also for the postoffice department's tariff on what would then constitute one of its juiciest accounts.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, January 27

A MOST propitious pattern of vital and productive planets encourages a definite and concentrated effort to combine the energies, abilities, and other progressive and expansive elements for attaining high ambitions, with objectives of major importance to be assisted to advanced goals by the substantial support or endorsement of influential personages, both in public and financial or commercial standing. All should be found friendly and willing to encourage propositions of merit and enduring worth.

Those whose birthday it is should take advantage of excellent opportunities for placing their most ambitious hopes, wishes and objectives on a secure, expansive and lucrative basis, whether this aim tends to public or private gain, to business, financial, professional or social standing and influence. Personal prestige and efficiency may play a major part in influencing the hearty support of those in high places. But propositions must have merit and enduring worth to gain this preferment and solid aid. Romance and sentiment also enter to make for progress and pleasant relations.

DROUGHT AND FARM CROPS

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Continued drought in the mid-west corn belt as well as in other sections and lack of food reserves today were cited by an American Dairy association official as "meaning trouble for the future civilian food supply."

Manager Owen M. Richards, reporting to the association's executive committee on drought conditions after a recent western tour, asserted growing scarcities of additional foods, including bread and other wheat products, "loom as probabilities."

He said America, in peacetime, had large food reserves, which normally carried over from year to year, but in war time these reserves had been used. This has happened, he added, despite the record food productions in 1941, '42 and '43.

Richards, in his report prepared for delivery to the committee, said "for the first time during the war period the nation now is dependent upon the food production of a single year."

Asserting that farmers in the western plains states "are worrying about dust storms," Richards told the committee that "substantial percentages" of this year's production already have been allocated to meet war needs.

"This combined with prospective reductions in production that may be due to drought all adds up to trouble for the future civilian food supply," he said. "The situation has not been helped by policies that have dissipated supplies and throttled dairy and other productions."

These devils tell us all sorts of stories about their low morale. But they always seem to keep up their spirits as long as they have something to shoot with. The best way to break a Jerry's morale is with a hand grenade.—American officer in Italy.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Home Eye Injuries Are Common

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
WHENEVER people are conscious of certain dangers and informed as to preventive measures, the incidence of injury is lessened.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

This is shown in the experience of industrial plants where intensive educational campaigns are carried out, and proper warnings displayed on the walls of the plants.

This experience is the justification for the discussion of hazards of all kinds and how to avoid them in the home and on the streets, for the benefit of the average civilian population. This column certainly subscribes to the adage about the ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure.

Many injuries to the eye occur in the home and should be warned against so that every one be on the alert to prevent them.

Avoiding Perforating Injuries
Perforating injuries to the eye are potential life-long tragedies. And they are caused almost one hundred per cent by carelessness.

Small children should never be allowed to play with sharp-pointed objects—knives, ice picks, can openers, forks, etc.

Perforating injuries are often caused by a tiny piece of metal flying from a surface which is being hammered. In most cases these objects cause only superficial injuries, denuding the epithelium of the eye and these are the easiest to treat successfully. The eye doctor will drop a local anesthetic in the eye which stops the sensation of scratching and stops the instinctive rubbing of the eye that this sensation rouses the eye to. To avoid secondary infection a 5 per cent sulfathiazole ointment is usually employed, as an ointment to the surface of the eye.

Chemical Burns of Eye
Chemical burns of the eye are very common household accidents. They are caused by ammonia, lye and refrigerants, which are usually ammonia compounds or sulphur dioxide. They cause dehydration of the superficial tissues and rapidly spreading necrosis. Lye burns are usually very serious, because the involved part of the eyeball becomes opaque. Lye should always be handled carefully with due regard to proper protection of the eyes. Emergency treatment for these chemical burns before the doctor

Gas on Stomach

Relieved in 5 minutes or double your money back.
When excess gas and acid cause painful, bloating, gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fast-acting medicine known for symptomatic relief—multibates like those in Bell and Tablets. No laxative. Bell and Tablets bring comfort in a 15 or return bottle to us for double money back, 25c.

gets there is to irrigate the eyeball with warm salt water until all traces of the chemical are removed. If there is not an eyedropper handy the salt solution can be squeezed on the eyeball from a wash cloth or towel.

Contusions, due to causes varying all the way from running into the door left ajar to running into the belligerent first, range in severity from slight damage (the good old black eye) to rupture of the eyeball. Hemorrhage may be controlled by applying cold compresses for 48 hours, followed by heat.

But, once again, in eye injuries especially, the ounce of prevention is worth the pound of cure. Wear glasses to protect your eyes when around caustic chemicals, from cleaning powders to refrigerators. Turn on the light when you get up in the middle of the night so you will see the open door. Stay out of arguments and avoid the closed fist.

ITHACA, N. Y.—Two Alfred university professors aren't kidding when they sign, "I've Been Working On The Railroad." Prof. Harold O. Boraas and Prof. Kaspar C. Myrvaganes have finished a summer vacation as carpenter's helpers on the railroad. They learned to handle hammers and saws, worked with pick and shovel and for their "thesis" built a new station platform at Alfred.

Five Women Perish In Chicago Factory Fire

CHICAGO, Jan. 26—Five women employees of a northwest side war plant lost their lives late last night when they were trapped by flames of a fire which attacked the one-story building.

Police Detective Bernard Kazmarek said the bodies of the five women were found after a search of the ruins by police and firemen.

Several women employees of the plant, which manufactures electrical equipment for the Army and Navy, were rescued through the skylight of the washroom where they had been trapped.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said the cause of the fire had not been determined, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were called to aid in the investigation. He estimated damage at $25,000.

Ohio Cities To Receive Safety Awards In April

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26—Nearly 12 every 100,000 Ohioans were killed in traffic accidents last year, a survey by the state highway department indicated today.

The report was compiled from statistics in Harry E. Neal's traffic and safety division and issued in connection with the 1943 All-Ohio traffic safety contest.

The highway department said only Ashland of the state's eligible communities failed to enroll in this year's safety contest, which represents about 75 per cent of the state's 750,000 residents.

March 15 is the contest deadline for reporting deaths and accidents. Winning towns will be awarded plaques in April.

YANKS DRIVE

cast intimated American troops had cut the Appian way at Velletri, 24 miles southeast of Rome, after Allied bombs destroyed the town. At Velletri, 17 miles northeast of the original Allied landing point at Nettuno, the Appian way and the via Cassilina, the other great highway connecting Rome with southern Italy, are only eight miles apart. The via Cassilina may be reached from Velletri by a good road running northeast to Valmontone.

(The Rome correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said British and American troops were fighting so close to Rome the action could be followed with glasses from Castel Romano, 12 miles south of the capital, and about 17 miles northwest of occupied Anzio on the coast).

Fight With Tanks

Earlier, a dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent with the invasion forces, said Allied troops were "in perfectly clear view" of Velletri, Gensano and Albano, the last of which is 15 miles southeast of Rome. Gensano is five miles west of Velletri.

Whitehead said American troops supported by tanks are having to blast German machine-gunners from every farmhouse in their drive across the Mussolini canal.

For the first time in the Italian campaign, he added, the Americans are fighting over country suitable to tanks.

Rome a Battlefield? Answer Up to Nazis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Will the Eternal city become a bloody battleground?

The answer is up to the Germans.

As Rome was reported today within range of the Allies' big artillery, it became possible to state that the attitude of the United States and of our Allies is simply this: What happens in Rome will depend altogether upon the Nazis. If they get out, the Allies will go around. If the Germans make a stand in Rome—well, and the Vatican probably understands fully—the Allies will have to go into them there.

Naval Airman Killed

STUEBENVILLE, Jan. 26—Lieut. (j.g.) John Howard, 26, husband of Elizabeth Mayers Howard, was killed in an accident at Sanford, Fla., it was learned here Tuesday. He was assigned to the Florida field for advanced training in aerial gunnery, and received his wings at Corpus Christi, Tex., in November, 1941. Details of the air accident in which he died were not revealed. The body will be sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., for services.

Housing Project For Sale

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The Defense Housing corporation today offered for sale the Crescent gardens at Massillon, O., with 200 houses—as part of 2,811 houses and 5,617 apartments to be disposed of. The government has more than $71,000,000 invested in the properties.

The corporation said it was the government's policy to get out of a war emergency enterprise that is comparable to private endeavor.

Montgomery Knocks Out Williams In Philadelphia Fight

TRENTON FIGHTER LOSES IN FINAL ROUND OF SETTO

Montgomery Points toward Promised Return Match
With Beau Jack

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Bob Montgomery today was on the comeback trail toward his last lightweight title with five in his eye after blasting Ike Williams, the Trenton, N. J., terror, into oblivion in the last round of their scheduled 12-rounder at Convention hall last night.

Pointing toward his promised return title match with Beau Jack, the Philadelphia Bobcat hammered Williams mercilessly for 11 rounds. The end came for the Trenton lightweight in two minutes and 49 seconds of the final stanza.

A fight thirsty crowd, officially announced at 14,807, paid $55,829 to see the Bobcat start his comeback by blasting Williams' 32-bout winning streak with a drumming body attack that softened the Trenton boy up for the final smash.

Stays Down Third Time
As Williams came out for the last round he walked into a flock of straight rights that floored him twice for counts of eight. As the Trenton fighter lifted his beaten body from the canvass for the second time Montgomery whanged over another right which caught Williams flush on the jaw and draped him face down over the lower rope.

His face buried in typewriters and cameras in the press row, the Trenton battler was counted out. Williams opened the battle with a scintillating pace that had the screaming crowd on its feet, but it was only a stout heart that kept him flinging leather in the last few rounds.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26.—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, romping along the comeback trail, won another knockout victory here last night and a host of well-wishers in his quest for at least one of the three titles he once held.

Shortly after the bout, the Negro manager, George P. Moore, announced he had signed Armstrong for a 10-round bout with Lew Hanbury in Washington Feb. 7.

The former featherweight-lightweight-welterweight king knocked out Saverio Turiello of New York in the seventh round of their scheduled 12-rounder. But it was not the knockout itself that warmed up many of the ringsters to Hammerin' Henry's hopes so much as it was the manner in which he did it.

Like the "perpetual motion" of old, he never stopped shooting his triphammer blows, both arms constantly swinging. Three times before the finish, Turiello was down for a nine-count.

Henry weighed 144 pounds for the bout.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Don't laugh at that Saddle Shoe Suede who's trying manfully to lug your golf clubs around the course, mister. In another five years you may be taking lessons from her. . . . That's the opinion of George Corcoran, the Greensboro, N. C., golf pro who first proposed a feminine P. G. A. . . . Caddies always have grown up to become pros, George explains, and the girls who have taken up carrying the past year or two are no different. . . . In fact, they're better prospects, because girls naturally have better rhythm and are keener students. . . . "They draw more accurate mental pictures and as a result develop better swings. They don't try to use brute strength like a man," says George. . . . Okay, they're copy cats, if that will soothe your masculine vanity, but wasn't it Bobby Jones who called Joyce Wethered the best golfer, man or woman, he ever had seen?

LET'S CALL NAMES

The girls shouldn't have any trouble finding the 25 starts that Betty Hicks thinks will be needed to start a women's P. G. A. after the war. . . . Besides Miss Hicks, Patty Berg, Helen Detweiler and other well-known players, Corcoran names such expert golf teachers as Helen McDonald of Chicago, who "has taught a lot of big shots though they probably wouldn't admit it," Elizabeth Gordon of Providence, R. I., Virginia Papp of St. Louis, Virginia Hayes of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Helen B. Schlemmer, author of a book on group golf instruction.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Bob Steuber's basketball teamates at Marquette are wondering why Bob, who played with the Chicago Bears during last fall's exhibition and the first league game before the Navy sent him to DePaul, wasn't given a cut of the Bears' playoff dough. . . . Under similar circumstances the Washington Redskins awarded Johnny Goodyear a nice chunk of dough and the Giants did all right by Byron Vosberg the year before.

TOOK DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Beard took to skating when doctors prescribed an outdoor life for him in an effort to build up his physique. He worked on an orphanage farm in Hershey in the summer and skated during the winter.

With the exception of three months, his last six winters have been spent in mastering the more intricate phases of skating. The three months he missed represent his service in the Army. He was given a medical discharge because of a recurrence of a boyhood malady, rheumatic fever.

Beard is given an unusual honor in Miss Henie's Hollywood Ice

Orphan, Sonja Henie's Partner, Is An Horatio Alger On Ice

By FRANK ECK

AP Features Sports Writer

NEW YORK—A few years ago Marshall Beard was just another orphan learning to skate on ice. Today, he's Sonja Henie's partner. Quite a climb for a chap who never had a professional skating lesson in his life.

The 23-year-old Hershey, Pa., skater, an orphan between the ages of three and 18 is naturally graceful. His slender hips give him an unusually lissome appearance on ice and his self-taught blade work is deft and precise.

Miss Henie's attention to Beard was called when he appeared in a motion picture. Sonja became interested and he made his debut with the world's top figure skater in Indianapolis, a few months ago. Since then, there's been little doubt about his success both as her partner and a soloist.

Considering his background, the history of Beard represents one of skating's outstanding Horatio Alger stories. From an orphan to the most glamorous spot in a million-dollar ice show, as Miss Henie's partner.

Beard took to skating when doctors prescribed an outdoor life for him in an effort to build up his physique. He worked on an orphanage farm in Hershey in the summer and skated during the winter.

With the exception of three months, his last six winters have been spent in mastering the more intricate phases of skating. The three months he missed represent his service in the Army. He was given a medical discharge because of a recurrence of a boyhood malady, rheumatic fever.

Beard is given an unusual honor in Miss Henie's Hollywood Ice

Stars Form Their Own Cage League At Corpus Christi

By FRANK ECK

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas—Speaking of basketball players: Corpus Christi Naval Air center has so many good ones it had to organize a league on the boys could get competition.

There are just not enough strong teams outside the naval station to take care of the demand for games. Cabanis field has twice beaten the University of Texas. Main Station also has walloped the Longhorns.

But it's in the Naval Air Center league that the boys find the going tough because each team is an all-star outfit.

Main Station, undefeated against the strongest teams in the Southwest last season, doesn't have a man from the 1943 crew but still is as tough as they come.

Among former college basketball stars now playing with teams in the league are:

Elwood Pitzer, Kansas university; P. L. O'Connell, W. H. Palmberg and Frank Mandrie, Oregon State; K. O. Meltz, St. Mary's (California); S. T. Armstrong, Butler; Joe Ritter, Cleveland; Al Stanton, Syracuse; Bill Riley, Ohio State; A. G. Gilmore and C. W. Kone, Indiana; J. C. Stoopack, North Carolina; J. H. Phipps, Illinois Normal; C. C. Crouch, Southern Methodist; Larry Stockton, New Mexico; H. A. Lamprish, Tulsa; R. A. Davis, Furman; W. J. Greedy, Washington; Richard Sharp, Iowa; Webb Bishop, Texas; E. Brannan, Idaho; James Coleman, Missouri; Pat Flinders, Michigan; Walt McPherson, San Jose; W. H. Kiser, Oklahoma A. and M.; Ed Nunery, Mississippi State; Grady Lewis, Southwest Texas State and Phillips Oilers; Ike Poole, Arkansas; E. L. Vaughn and Joe Lunn, Southern California; Mike Koll, E. R. Tamm and Orvell Sotford, California; John Dick, J. D. Haworth and H. R. Brown, Oregon; Paul Payne, New York university; C. O. Epperson, Wisconsin, and C. J. Gernard, Baylor.

Kelley Schedules Class B Cage Games for Tonight

Class B basketball teams, originally scheduled to play tomorrow night, are asked to be at the Memorial building tonight, Joe Kelley announces. The change is being made because of a dinner to be held in the gym on Thursday.

Teams affected by this change and their respective game times are: Monks vs. V. F. W. at 6:30, Kleins vs. Bachelors at 7:15, and Roberts vs. Wranglers at 8.

Clubhouse Notes For YOU

By HAROLD CLASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—AP Features Sports Editor Chip Royal, the conductor of this column, started a nationwide furore recently when he began his poll to determine the three greatest all-time sports achievements.

Like everyone else who has rubbed wintertime limon on a shin-splint or taped a blistered finger, this sports scribe has very definite opinions on the matter.

My selection as the No. 1 sports achievement took no athletic skill at all. Only a hammer, four nails and a pair of peach baskets were needed.

They were combined one day in the winter of 1891 when Dr. James A. Naismith tacked the two baskets to the bottom of the indoor mezzanine running track at Springfield College in Springfield, Mass., and invented basketball—the sport that now draws more spectators a year than any other sport in the United States.

Right there Dr. Naismith, who died a few years ago in Kansas, became the only out-and-out inventor of a major sport, all others being evolved from a forebear.

Cites Divorce As No. 1 American 'Blockbuster'

CINCINNATI, Jan. 26.—America, says the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, is being bombed from within by five "blockbusters," of which divorce is No. 1.

Father O'Donnell told the Medivalist society last night that "we not only condone divorce but actually encourage it."
Blockbuster No. 2, he said, is birth control with a consequent shifting of age groups; No. 3, women in war work who are "sabotaging the home and all society;" No. 4, Godliness in education and jurisprudence, and No. 5, "statism in which the tendency is to let Washington do it," let Congress pass a law and let's get a hand-out from a federal agency."

Held In Dad's Death

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—Carl Muntz, 57, was charged with first degree murder today in the death of his 83-year-old father, Charles William Muntz, at their home here last Friday night.

Muntz pleaded innocent to the charge filed by Sheriff Arnold Potts after Coroner C. W. Miller reported the father died of violent blows on the face and head.

Cleveland Worker Held

STREUBENVILLE, Jan. 26.—Frank Capone, 26, New Brighton, Pa., employee of a Cleveland war plant, pleaded guilty to an indictment based on the death of George Matyas, hit by an automobile on New Year's day on the Ohio Run highway. Sentence was deferred.

Gen. Pedro Ramirez
President of Argentina

Escobar would leave tomorrow to take up his duties as ambassador to the United States.

Escobar, former ambassador to Brazil, had been named last October to succeed Dr. Felipe A. Espil as Argentina's envoy to Washington (following a rebuke to the Ramirez regime by Secretary of State Hull.)
Espil had served in Washington since 1931, married an American and developed intimate friendships among U. S. officials.

Long Conferences Held

The reversal in Argentina's long tradition of neutrality came out of conferences which lasted almost continuously from 7 a. m. Monday until 4 a. m. today.

Erich Otto Meynen, who has been in charge of the German embassy here since the recall of Ambassador Baron Edmund von Thiermann two years ago, received today's Argentine notification to go home. Carlos Echague, chief of Argentine protocol, delivered the government's notes to Meynen and Baron Shu Tomii, Japanese ambassador.

It was the first break in diplomatic relations in modern Argentine history. Even during the first World war, when the German minister, Count Karl Von Luxburg, was proved to have suggested that Argentine ships be sunk "without a trace," the Argentine government confined its action to expulsion of Luxburg, allowing the German embassy to continue functioning.

Argentina also declined to sever relations two years ago after German submarines had torpedoed three Argentine ships.

FDR DEMANDS

message, Sen. Taft (R., O.) jumped to his feet and declared:

"I resent, as one of those who propose state voting for the armed services, the designation of that proposal as a fraud."

"Untrue," Taft declares. Taft said the President had delivered "a direct insult to the senate and a direct insult to the house," with his message endorsing the Green-Lucas federal vote bill now pending in the senate.

"Some of the statements are not true," Taft continued. "Some of them are argumentative."

Republicans guffawed loudly during the reading of the President's message in the house, and again when the clerk had finished it.

Their laughs were particularly loud when the clerk read a paragraph mentioning the President's hesitancy "to say anything to the Congress on this matter" and again when he asserted a right to speak "as an interested citizen." Boos mingled with the laughs.

Immediately after the reading, Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts asked unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the senate-passed states-right bill. However, since Martin had not been recognized for that purpose, the house proceeded to consideration of other business.

"I agree with the President that there is need for immediate action on the soldier vote bill," Martin said in making his request concerning the senate bill.

Mail for War Prisoners Should Be Slogan-Free

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—German authorities have advised the State department they will confiscate mail for American prisoners of war when the envelopes bear patriotic slogans.

Postmaster General Walker said the State department is "protesting this interference with the delivery of mail to our men," and added to assure delivery of mail such slogans as "V for Victory," "Win the War" and "Buy War Savings Bonds and Stamps," should be avoided.

Palestine Man Honored

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26.—The American Association of Teachers of Journalism elected Fred W. Merwin of Rutgers university as association president in a mail ballot, James W. Pollard of Ohio State university announced today.

Merwin, son of Publisher C. L. Merwin of the East Palestine (O.) Leader, formerly was on the Canton (O.) Repository staff.

About Town

Discusses Tariff

The United States is far down in the list of high tariff countries of the world, with only six having smaller tariff duties, it was revealed in a talk before the Rotary club Tuesday by M. W. Thompson, general manager of the Hall China Co. of East Liverpool.

Hall, presented to the club by F. W. McKee, explained tariff restrictions, declared that 65 per cent of the imports come into the country free of duty, and said the real trouble with the tariff was that it was levied on valises at foreign ports, instead of ports of entry.

STATE SURPLUS MAY AID POST-WAR ERA

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26.—Gov. John W. Bricker says the Ohio state treasury now has a surplus of $74,000,000 to bolster projects in the post-war era.

The disclosure came yesterday before the governor addressed a meeting of the Ohio Good Roads federation, at which all officers were re-elected, including President Henry A. Williams of Columbus and Vice Presidents Arthur Ranney of Akron and C. H. Bryson of Athens.

In announcing the new surplus figure, the governor pointed out $30,000,000 already had been earmarked for the welfare building expansion program.

The governor said the state would be generous in expanding its highway arterial system after the war. He urged that money be spent for this road-building program as much as possible through private contractors, rather than by the government.

Post-War Experimentation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The War Production board today gave industry a green light on experimentation with aluminum in post-war models of civilian goods.

The decision is expected to stimulate research looking to development of lightweight automobiles, refrigerators and other durable goods items on which actual model-building has been at a standstill because of WPB's previous refusal to allocate aluminum for this purpose.

May Aid Father Draft

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The house military committee may recommend abolition of a large part of the Army's Specialized Training program soon in a move designed to save an estimated 200,000 pre-war fathers from military induction.

Committee members made this disclosure privately today as they neared completion of closed hearings on the extent and value of the program.

APPLE PLANT

be only about 20 per cent of normal, few apples were available for dehydration, the bulk of them being sold as fresh fruit. However, surveys of the apple growers in this region show that in normal years 500,000 to 600,000 bushels of apples may be available for dehydration and by-product use. Such a quantity of apples would serve to operate the plant approximately 100 to 120 days a year at a capacity of some 5,000 bushels of apples a day.

Plan Other Dried Products

Under these operating conditions, there would be an addition to Salem's payrolls of approximately $175,000 to $200,000 a year, to say nothing of the added income to the agricultural community by the purchase of apples, which would perhaps exceed $400,000 a year.

The plant will operate for about 10 days longer and then will be shut down on account of the lack of apples to dehydrate. However, there is some possibility that the government may make use of the plant for some processing of dried products on hand, which subject is now being negotiated with the proper authorities.

Keener Foods is the name under which the apple dehydration plant is being operated and is one of a group of smaller industries, known as the Keener Industries. It was the intention to operate the plant under the name of Keener Foods, Inc. but, due to lack of personnel and the difficulty of securing an organization, the corporation was abandoned and the plant is operated under Keener's proprietorship.

Other Keener Industries include the Keener farms hatcheries, Keener dairy farm, Keener feed mills at Berlin Center, Keener hatchery in Salem (formerly Calkins hatchery), the Keener locker plant, known as Family Frozen Food storage, and Keener Farms, mostly lying along Ellsworth rd. north of Salem. Keener also operates a large engineering business in this country and in other parts of the world, and during the war has contributed a great deal toward the making of equipment for producing armaments and munitions.

WPB Aids Merchants

CLEVELAND, Jan. 26.—Easter comes earlier this year than last and the War Production board intends to help merchants caught with short inventories for the April 9 holiday.

Chester L. Jones, WPB inventory limitation administrator, announced today the WPB is "prepared to give sympathetic attention" to any retailer who demonstrates the Easter date necessitates adjustment of inventory control. Appeals may be filed with the War Production board wholesale and retail trade division, 5301 Empire State building, New York, Jones said.

FINDS COUNTY

linquency of the county, based on the last settlement in September, amounted to $657,806, a reduction of about $262,000 over the previous year.

Tangible personal property delinquency was $94,235, a reduction of $4,000, and intangible personal property delinquency was $19,366.

Outstanding bonded indebtedness of Columbiana county today is $76,600. Of this amount $52,000 is in general bonds, made up of $2,000 in court house improvement bonds and $50,000 in delinquent tax bonds used for the financing of relief. The balance of $24,600 is in excise tax bonds, also used for relief financing.

Nearly Free From Debt

"Certainly the indebtedness of Columbiana county is not critical," said Brant. "The county will be entirely free from debt at the end of 1945 and the county officials responsible for this program should be commended."

Referring to the question of whether the county lives within its budget, Brant revealed that the income for 1939 was $511,298 and expenditures amounted to $473,900. In 1942 the income was reduced to $417,792 but expenditures were reduced by a greater proportion than the loss in income. Balances reported at the end of the year do not represent true cash balances because a number of bills are carried over at the end of the year to encumber this balance.

Brant said it is contemplated that Columbiana county will end the year 1944 with a small balance in the general fund and all bills will have been paid.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

determine the Allied war effort in this hemisphere.

One of the most significant things in connection with this development is the solidarity of the United States and Britain on the question. There is a school which has thought that because of American and British rivalry for South American trade these two great powers might not stand together on political issues of the western hemisphere—that Britain always would be open for South American trade even if the United States was not.

That's an argument not founded on sound reasoning. One point on which Britain and the United States cannot differ is the danger of Nazism and Fascism to democracy and religion. The Allies aren't going to extend themselves to the limit to uproot these isms and destroy them in the Axis countries and then overlook them in other parts of the world.

Thus those countries which now give aid and comfort to the Axis are building on shifting sands. The Axis soon will disappear from the face of the earth, and its friends cannot expect then to be received with open arms by the United Nations which have stood together to destroy it. To the victors belong the spoils.
